

WEDNESDAY, November 22, 1882.

Just Received—R. M. Huey.
New Groceries—D. R. Fleniken.
Dry Goods Exchange—J. Groeschel.
Township Meeting—J. F. McMaster, Chairman.
The Crosby Military Institute—D. B. Busby, Principal.
Drawing and Painting—Miss Fannie T. Jordan.
Administrators' Sale—J. M. Kirkland and A. J. McGill.
Fountain's Horse and Cattle Powders—David E. Foutz, Proprietor.

Local Briefs.
Cotton is looking up a little. On Monday it brought 93¢. Just received a lot of selected seed.
J. F. McMaster will issue much fewer tax executions this year than he did last.

Nearly everybody about Wimbomboro went to the fair—the accounts from which represent it to be the best since war.

The Reform Signal made its appearance again last week. The report that it had suspended turns out to have been erroneous.

The Great Western Union Five Cent Cigar—none like it. Try it. At F. W. Habenicht's.

Mr. Joseph Groeschel left for New York on Saturday. He will return in a few days, bringing with him his sister Mrs. Marie Herber.

The sheriff's deputy was thought to be lost, but he turned up safe and sound on Sunday. He had only been down to the State fair.

Now that everybody has gone to the fair and come back in a good humor, it's a fine time to settle up subscriptions. To THE NEWS AND HERALD.

A new arrival this day of Hostetter's Bitters, Lode Rock and Rye, and Bass's Royal Ginger Ale, at F. W. Habenicht's.

We extend thanks to Mr. E. L. Roche, president of the Agricultural Society of South Carolina, for a complimentary ticket to the Industrial Exhibition.

The Frick Engine is acknowledged to be the best engine made. Sold by R. J. McCarty & Co., Washington, and it is presumed he has gone to tell the woe of his friends of the Greenback-Negro party, now dead and out of sight.

Miss Livia Skinner represents Fairfield at the grand ball of the South Carolina Club. She wore cream-colored nun's veiling, moire silk and Spanish lace, pearl ornaments.

Nov is the time to plant shade trees. Nine out of ten trees carefully transplanted in November will live, and the expense of doing so compared with the comfort in having them is nothing.

Messrs. R. J. McCarty & Co. bought on Saturday, in addition to large purchases at Wimbomboro, 100 bales of cotton at White Oak, 64 at Blackstock, 84 at Woodward's, and 33 at Ridgeway.

A reader of THE NEWS AND HERALD writes: "I hope the paper, which has labored so faithfully for the right, may meet with great success." Such words are sources of pleasure and encouragement.

Just received from the importers—one case of 1875 Cognac Brandy, 1874-Jamaica Rum, 1870-Ramsey's Scotch Whiskey, best Holland Swan Gin, at F. W. Habenicht's.

The aurora borealis was seen on Friday night just after dark, and was a very pretty sight. The illumination of the sky resembled the reflection of a distant fire, and indeed many people took it to be that.

T. R. Richardson, Esq., of Charlotte, stopped a day in Wimbomboro on his return from the fair. He has quite a soft place in his heart for South Carolina, and enjoys visiting in Columbia as much as anybody.

We are informed that Mr. David R. Elkin, the defeated Greenback candidate for Congress from the fourth district, has been advising the negroes in his neighborhood to strike for higher wages for cotton-picking.

A gentleman who has taken the weekly NEWS AND HERALD for years, tells us that three or four other papers arrive at his house by the same mail, and there is always a rush for the county paper. That is an evidence of good taste.

There is some fear that our farmers, tempted by the prosperous year we have had, will plant less grain and more cotton for next year. We hope not. The benefits of this year's grain crop have been so great that another is worth trying.

All parties wishing to purchase engines and mills will please give us their orders at once, so as to have them here in time for cotton ginning, as it takes fifteen to twenty days to get them from the factory.

R. J. McCARTY & Co.
Attention is called to the advertisement of Miss Fannie T. Jordan, who proposes to give lessons in drawing and painting. She has had good training and experience in these branches, and we feel sure she will give entire satisfaction to pupils and patrons.

The printers return thanks to the "boss clerk" of the Evening Star Saloon for a "set up" to a Tom and Jerry on Monday night at the right time. If you want a good drink, either hot or cold, call on "Sargent" Reitz at the Evening Star, and he will be glad to serve you.

An onion diet is good for indigestion and cures catarrh. Raw onions freely partaken of purify the blood and prevent skin diseases. And yet, the odor left upon the breath drives many persons from their use. Italians and Spaniards, both sexes alike, as well as many French people, consume large quantities and are all the better for it. A reward ought to be offered for deodorizing onions.

The Charlotte Observer contains the following interesting item: "Mr. W. H. Gannell, of Wimbomboro, S. C., was married at Huntersville, this country, on the 18th instant, by the Rev. W. W. Orr, to Miss Belle McKay. Nick Hunter, who received an invite and a lot of cake, wishes us to extend his congratulations and best wishes, along with those of the whole community."

A good many complaints are made of the boisterous and at times indecent conduct of negroes on the excursion trains running during fair week. If an annoyance is to be a feature of the fair, they had better stop. The railroad officials have ample powers, under the law, to check anything like misconduct on the trains, and these powers should be used for the benefit of well-behaved passengers.

We have received the catalogue of the Feasterville High School, in charge of Prof. A. C. Laughlin. The circular shows a good attendance of pupils, while the course of study, discipline, methods of instruction, etc., are fully set forth. These are fully up with the times. Professor Laughlin has recently opened a school in the Buckhead neighborhood, and his prospects are very encouraging. We wish him every success.

POSITIVE NOTICE.—Those that are indebted to the undersigned for dental work done in good faith will please come forward and settle at once. I have given ample time, and now I need, and money I must have, to meet my obligations. "A word to the wise." I. SIMPSON, Dentist.

DEATH OF MR. JAMES LEMMON.—Mr. James Lemmon, a son of Mrs. Landreth, died on Sunday last. His health had been failing for some years, and he had for a long time been confined at home. He was about thirty-five years of age, and unmarried. He was of very quiet and retiring disposition, and in this way had few intimate acquaintances. Among those who knew him he was held in high regard.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the Episcopal congregation will give a festival in the Theban Hall early in December, for the purpose of raising funds to discharge a church debt. The nature of the entertainment has not yet been fully settled upon, but full particulars will be given hereafter. The ladies of the congregation are requested to meet at the residence of Dr. T. T. Robertson on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock, to make necessary arrangements. A full attendance is desired.

CROSBY MILITARY INSTITUTE.—We call special attention to the advertisement of the Crosby Military Institute, published in another column. The school is now in very successful operation, and under the able management of the principal, Prof. D. B. Busby, is doing an excellent work. It is hard to estimate the good to be accomplished by such an institution, and we believe that the good people of the Feasterville neighborhood, appreciating this fact, will continue to give Prof. Busby a generous support. He certainly deserves it.

PERSONAL.—Mr. B. R. Turnipseed, who has been for some months teaching at Ridgeway, has been elected principal of the Camden Graded School and will enter at once upon the duties of that position. While we shall regret to lose Mr. Turnipseed as a citizen of Fairfield, and while his loss will be especially felt by the people of Ridgeway, yet we congratulate him on being called to a wider sphere of usefulness, and we predict for him a very successful career. He is a good scholar, devoted to his profession, and he has kept up with the spirit and the progress of the times. He will carry with him to Camden the hearty good wishes of a host of friends.

THE INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION.—The Agricultural Exhibition of the Agricultural Society of South Carolina will be held at Charleston, S. C., opening November 21st inst., and closing December 16th, prox. Unusual attractions will be presented at this coming exhibition, increased accommodations will be provided, and a large number of visitors are expected to be present. On the 27th, 28th and 29th, insts., there will be a Music Festival at the Academy of Music. The best singers of Savannah, Atlanta, and Columbia have been engaged to participate. The chorus will consist of one hundred and fifty voices, with an orchestra of fifty performers. The festival will probably be the greatest musical event ever witnessed in the South. The rates of fare on all the railroads leading to Charleston have been greatly reduced. Tickets from Wimbomboro to Charleston and back are now offered at $4.95—good for ten days from the day of sale.

JOURNALISM.—Mr. Harry Haynesworth, retired from the editorial management of the Enterprise, and is succeeded by Mr. S. A. Nettles, who will well sustain the reputation of the paper. We extend him our best wishes for success.

The Monitor is the name of a new weekly published at Bennettsville, the county seat of Marlborough. The paper is edited by Mr. W. L. Thomas, and gives promise of success and usefulness. The "temperance county" is one of the most prosperous in South Carolina, and it will doubtless give a hearty welcome to the Monitor.

The New Era, published in Charleston, by William Holloway, colored, should be liberally sustained. Every reading colored man in the State should support it, and every white man should stand by it to the last. We need just such a paper in South Carolina, edited by just such an intelligent colored man as its present editor. Subscription price one year $1.50.

PREMIUMS AT THE FAIR.—The following are the premiums awarded to Fairfield exhibitors at the State Fair: Best butter, Dr. W. K. Turpin. Best red-peaches and tomatoes, Miss Anna McMahon. Best bushel red wheat, Dr. I. Simpson.

Upland cotton, first premium, J. P. Elkin. Stallions, one year old, second class, Moses Clowry, first premium. Fillies, three years old, second class, J. E. Robertson, first premium. Fillies, two years old, first class, J. E. Robertson, first premium. Fillies, one year old, second class, Thos. D. Owings, first premium. Saddle mares, South Carolina raised, fourth class, Moses Clowry, second premium. Saddle horses, open to the world, first class, M. G. Robertson, first premium. Combination horse or mare, not less than three from all exhibitors to enter, M. C. Robertson, first premium; special mention by the committee.

Mule colts, South Carolina raised, Moses Clowry, first premium. New ADVERTISEMENTS.—Mr. D. R. Fleniken advertises a fresh supply of buckwheat flour and molasses. Buckwheat cakes and molasses are food at one's savory and seasonable, and everybody likes them. Winter is the season for them, and Mr. Fleniken's supply has arrived just in the nick of time. Go and try some.

Mr. Joseph Groeschel has made arrangements to supply his customers, and any others who may need them, with carriages of every style and quality. His prices will be found as low as the lowest, and he will use his best efforts to please everybody who may give him an order.

Mr. R. M. Huey has kept up with the advancing seasons, and has now in store a varied supply of groceries, such as buckwheat flour, chow-chow pickles, apple butter, peach butter, raisins, cheese, macaroni, prunes, tomatoes, etc., in addition to a full stock of miscellaneous groceries, all selected with care and bought at lowest market rates. They will be sold at correspondingly low rates for cash. Go and buy some.

ITEMS FROM FEASTERVILLE.
—All quiet along the Potomac last week.
—Work on the boarding-house for the Crosby Institute is now progressing finely under the supervision of Mr. Groeschel. He thinks the house will be ready for use by the first of January.

Mr. Elmore Howe has sold his place near Beaver Creek Church to Mr. Jacob C. Stone. He intends to remove to Georgia, and will leave with the regrets and best wishes of the community.

The community sincerely sympathize with Mr. Jas. G. McAllister, whose hand and forearm were caught and badly lacerated by a cotton gin on Thursday evening last. It is doubtful whether the hand can be saved.

Thirty-five or forty of our people went to the State Fair. This certainly indicates a cosmopolitan spirit not implied in the title of Dark Corner. The only entries reported are those of horses, mules and perhaps cattle, by Mr. Moses Clowry, and wines by Mr. C. W. Fancette, Jr.

There has been discovered in the Corner a man who has been taking a patent medicine without having read the recommendations, as if it could possibly cure without knowing for what taken! Fortunately, he was apprised of the danger of this great neglect in time to prevent its producing a pair of horns instead of relieving his cough, as was intended.

The following concise conclusion of the fallacy of Darwin's theory of the "survival of the fittest":
1. The non-evolution of a pedagogue without a pocket-book.
2. The non-evolution of a boy, either without a pocket or else with one capacious enough to keep his nails, marbles, nuts, tops and numerous other loud-sounding tin-cracks from constantly rattling over the school room floor.
3. The non-evolution of a species of man for pedagogues, destitute of a nervous system and incapable of "getting on their ears" when the answer to the question, "What is the feminine of horse?" goes down the class as follows: "Colt," "male," "filly," "cow." "Oh, I know now" (from the head of the class), "heifer!" D. B. B.

THE ELECTION AT FEASTERVILLE.
How the Two Parties Conducted Themselves at the So-called Headquarters of the Greenbacks.

Messrs. Editors: Feasterville was said to be the head-center of the Mc Lane party. On Tuesday morning, the election day, we met about five o'clock and had some little trouble in securing a place to ballot. We found Dr. Clayton armed with an appointment as supervisor, James McLane as United States marshal, and George Coleman as United States treasurer. When the box was opened we thought they would scratch the bottom out of it. The two men who presented as United States marshals wore resplendent United States convicts, but we learned later that they were lightweight peddlers and huckleberry peddlers from Richmond county. Dr. Clayton took care of them. If he had not they would hardly have been noticed. They acted very well as gate-keepers at the polls. Everything went off quietly, except a drunken fuss between some drunken negroes. We have witnessed many elections at this place even in the dark days of Scott and the other Radicals. We have seen Stube Miller and George Barber at the polls, but have never seen such a pair of lightweights as these fellows with all five McLane tickets. Then Feaster's benchmen would fill his converts with five Feaster tickets. When the count was made McLane was running for every office as well as Feaster. They even wanted to be the constitutional amendment. Many negroes that were leaders in the past came to the place, but did not vote—could not swallow the pill. From the best information received, about twenty-two white men voted the Greenback ticket—mostly kin and their underlings. Not even the Feaster party, swayed with confusion, could induce the good, true and tried citizens to partake. They preferred their straight. The Evans vote was fairly almost to a man. After three years of Feasterville with the help of that inspired Christian gentleman, McLane, and his friends, they succeeded in voting twenty-two men, who were registered on account of the passage of the Stock Law and were opposed to the Registration Act. Now tell me how many traps set by McLane, Clayton or Elkin caught anybody, and how long would it take to get a majority of the white vote? We rather think that they got well paid for their trouble. We do not know whether they paid their supporters. If they did, they did better by them than their followers do by their own dishonestly contracted debts.

PLEASANT GATHERING.
Services of the Sunday School of the Green Methodist Church.
FOR THE NEWS AND HERALD.
Saturday, November 11, a majority of the good and social Cedar Creekers and many from adjacent neighborhoods assembled beneath the beautiful grove overshadowing Piney Grove Church to participate in a Sunday School festival. We could but refrain from laughter as we saw the old folks smiling and occasionally listening as if to hear a lover's secret in disguise. They had not forgotten the society they employed during their "social" period. After an appreciative chat of doors, well worthy of remembrance, we left the pleasant shade and brilliant sunshine and entered the church to be instructed by the Rev. A. J. Caution. This beloved pastor, concluding not to deliver a regular sermon, directed our attention to the word "Watch," and most earnestly did he entreat the little ones to listen with fixed attention. I observed twelve little fellows compactly filling a front bench, whose behavior indicated good training, future distinction and marked usefulness in life. The letters of this word "watch" imply much, and it was simply and beautifully described thus: Watch your words, actions, thoughts, companions and heart. The points and examples describing these words totally monopolized our attention.

Mr. J. W. Robinson then introduced the Rev. L. C. Chappell, one fully competent and able to address to address an audience on the necessity of Sabbath School instruction. We were really impressed with the remarks of both gentlemen, and expect them again in our midst at Piney Grove.

Mr. Robinson then remarked that the little girl, as a token of respect and separation, and then followed the sad farewell remarks of Mr. Robinson. Mr. Caution left an impression as he arose with appreciative thanks and said he would remember us and solicit an interest occasionally in our prayers, but urged us to think more of his successor. Thanks were then extended to members of Buffalo congregation for music, rare and sweet. A committee then returned to the grove, and in a brief space of time were seen moving along and around a table whose cloths were neatly covered with the best seasoned substantial and the finest dainties in the edibles.

Messrs. Editors, allow me a little space in your next issue, and I'll persuade you to leave the Boro the day preceding another feast and frolic, and remain overnight with me at HOLLY GROVE.

The Old and the New.—The newest of the Charleston fertilizer mills belongs to the oldest company, the Wando. These mills are right on the railroad and near the city, and consequently orders can be filled with dispatch.

THE ELECTION IN FAIRFIELD.
The Votes for the Different Candidates, as Shown by the Official Returns.

The Commissioners of Election for this county met on Tuesday last, and proceeded at once to canvass the votes cast in the recent election.

The following is the vote for Governor and for Congressmen at the different precincts:

Thompson, Mc Lane, Evans, Elkin.
Feasterville.....122 57 98 211
Gladden's Gr.....89 34 115 74
Yonnesville.....148 13 179 75
Wimbomboro.....37 55 69 161
McIntosh.....195 1 213 65
Durham's.....74 48 105 97
Horch.....137 42 138 138
Ridgeway.....103 54 232 138
Bear Creek.....111 56 139 41
Blythehold.....165151 ..

Totals.....1,579 355 1,921 1,920
Majorities.....1,224801 ..

There were 40 scattering votes cast in the election for Congressmen.

The following is the vote for the other officers, State and county:

LIKENANT GOVERNOR.
John C. Sheppard received.....1,579
Robert D. White received.....355

Majority for Sheppard.....1,224
SECRETARY OF STATE.
James S. Lipcomb received.....1,541
Thomas Baskins received.....290

Majority for Lipcomb.....1,281
ATTORNEY-GENERAL.
C. Richardson Miles received.....1,541
C. Baring Farner received.....290

Majority for Miles.....1,251
STATE TREASURER.
John P. Richardson received.....1,541
John D. Stanton received.....290

Majority for Richardson.....1,251
COMPTROLLER-GENERAL.
Wm. E. Stoner received.....1,541
Simone F. Corley received.....290

Majority for Stoner.....1,251
SUPERINTENDENT OF EDUCATION.
Asbury Coward received.....1,541
D. Durham received.....290

Majority for Coward.....1,251
ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL.
A. M. Mangault received.....1,541
John T. DeJough received.....290

Majority for Mangault.....1,251
REPRESENTATIVES.
A. S. Douglass received.....1,541
G. B. McMaster received.....1,541
Hayne McLeckin received.....1,541
A. P. Miller received.....302
David R. Feaster received.....307
W. H. Trapp received.....302

Average Democratic majority.....1,250
SCHOOL COMMISSIONER.
John Boyd received.....1,575
JUDGE OF PROBATE.
J. R. Boyles received.....1,575
COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.
Jas. R. Harney received.....1,575
Jno. A. Hinnant received.....1,575
Jas. L. Richmond received.....1,574

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.
Are. No. Majorities.
New Counties.....1,188 96 1,092
Elections.....1,339 1 1,338
Voters.....1,396 7 1,393

The Tale that Tells.
At the 14th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 10th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 15th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 11th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 16th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 12th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 17th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 13th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 18th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 14th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 19th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 15th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 20th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 16th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 21st Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 17th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 22nd Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 18th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 23rd Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 19th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 24th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 20th inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 25th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 21st inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 26th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 22nd inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New Orleans), and he drew the first capital prize of $25,000 (a princely sum) and in five at one dollar each, sent to Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. Two fifths, drawing $20,000, was sent to John C. Reish, a thirty German farmer of Ansonia Parish, La.; Gorman Harris, No. 609 12th Street, Health Office Inspector, and W. L. Lewis, of the Co-operative Ice, and both of Washington City, D. C., each drew another fifth. The second capital prize of $25,000 was a little man held in his right hand by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, Tenn. Another to a party at Memphis, Tenn., and so on.

At the 27th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery at New Orleans, on Tuesday (yesterday) evening, 23rd inst., 1882, the wheel again revolved, and no shadow of suspicion as to fairness rested upon the game. The third capital prize of $25,000 was drawn by the late Mr. J. F. Saneen, the proprietor of the Triangle (New